—We call attention to the ad of Crane & Hames, the market men, elsewhere this issue. They have put in a new refrigerator and will handle only first class meats. They are running a nice market and bidding for your trade.

—Next week is court. We ask all our friends and subscribers, while in attendance, to drop in and see us, make this office their headquarters; bring your families and let them see a nice print shop. The presses will be running Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning, and we will take pleasure in showing you through the office.

—We are trying to treat the people fair, and are giving them all that we can find in the papers for or against dispensaries. As the question in this county is being somewhat warmly agitated the columns of this paper are open to both sides. Any one who cares to can write about it either way and their name will be protected.

—We are requested by P. C. Carter, secretary of the Pickens County Singing Convention, to announce that when the convention adjourned at Cross Roads last August, there was no time or place selected for the next meeting. Any church wishing the convention to meet with them can so notify the president, Hon. Laban Mauldin, Easley, S. C.

—C. W. Hunt, of Mountain Rest, reports a curiously monstrous, real formation or phenomena at his farm in shape of a combination calf-half calf and half mule—which was born last week. Its feet are those of a mule, small and shapely, and have no sign of a calf's cloven hoof. Its head and ears also are quite muleish, bearing a decidedly closer resemblance to a mule than a calf. The remainder of the body of the creature is that of a calf. At three days of age the little freak was alive, apparently healthy and gave every promise of growing to maturity.—Koonew Courier.

—A few of our delinquent subscribers have given us the cheering assurance that as soon as they sell their cotton they will settle up, and they will sell when cotton goes up. How long could a newspaper last if all its subscribers were to proceed on this basis of payment? It really strikes us that a man who is able to hold his cotton for high prices ought to raise a dollar or two to pay the paper man who has no cotton to hold, no corn to eat and no wood to burn—in fact he has nothing to boast of except a fine crop of promises, and these do not pay the printers' bills.

—One of the many laws of the State that has fallen into disuse is that relating to the care and preservation of trees along the highways. Section 459 of the code reads as follows: "Whoever shall wilfully or wantonly cut down or kill any tree growing within ten feet of any road which may be laid out, altered or amended by authority of the county supervisor of any county, which shall, by direction of highway surveyor in charge of such road, have been left standing as a convenient of shade to the said road, for each tree so cut down or killed shall be fined twenty-five dollars at any court of competent jurisdiction."

—The stork disappears, and we look into the cradle and behold a male child. After running the gauntlet of measles, mumps, and chicken pox he enters school. At the age of ten he is a red-headed, freckle-faced boy and terror of the neighborhood. At twelve he is an apprentice in a printing office. At eighteen he has acquired two cases of long primer and an army press, and is editor of a country newspaper. At twenty he is married, at thirty he is bald-headed, stoop-shouldered, and the father of a large family. At thirty-five he is a corpse in a cheap pine coffin, and as five hundred delinquent subscribers file past his bier for the last look they are heard to say: "He was a good fellow but couldn't save his money."—Lookwood (Mo.) Times.

—You gain nothing by holding your coupons. There will be several days of the voting after the last published report, and you will all have the same chance at it.

—There are twenty-six cases on the calendar for trial at this term of court, which is next Monday, the 20th inst, as follows: Seven for assault and battery; one for petit larceny; five for violation of the dispensary law; one for larceny of live stock; one for rape; one for sale of property under mortgage; one for forgery; three for burglary and larceny; two for obtaining goods under false pretense; three for murder; one for infanticide. It is thought that the most of these cases will be put off until the next term of court, which meets on the fourth Monday (the 22nd) in May. There are also some cases to be reopened on appeal.

—Young Fools That Marry.

A green boy without a dollar present or prospective, sparking a girl regular and talking about marrying is a spectacle for gods and men. He should be reasoned with, and if he will not quit it until he is able to support a wife and know who he loves and the difference between love and passion, he should be quarantined, or put in a convent erected on purpose for such cases. Nine-tenths of the unhappy marriages are the result of green human calves being allowed to run at large in the society pasture without any yokes on them. They marry and have children before they do mustaches, they are fathers of twins before they are proprietors of pants and the little girls they marry are old women before they are twenty. Occasionally one of these gossling marriages turns out very well, but it is a clear case of accident.

—If there was a law against young galsots sparking before they have cut all their teeth, we suppose the little cusses would evade it in some way, but they ought to be a sentiment against it. It is time for these bantams to think of finding a pullet when they have raised money enough by their own work to buy a bundle of lathes to build a coop for her.

—But they see a girl who looks cunning and they are afraid there are not going to be enough girls to go around and they begin to get in their work real spry, and before they are aware of the sanctity of the marriage relation they are hitched for life, and before they own a cook stove or a bedstead they have to get up in the middle of the night and go after the doctor, so frightened that they run themselves out of breath, and then abuse the doctor because he does not run too, and when the doctor gets there he finds there is not enough linen to wrap a doll baby in. About this time he realizes that he has been a colossal, and as he flies around to heat the water and bring the bath tub, goes whooping after his mother or her mother; he turns pale around the gills, his hair turns red in a single night and he calls high heaven to that if he lives till morning he seriously doubts, he over a new leaf and never married again until he is old the next morning the yoke is around before the dawn, sticking every way, his o shot and his frame nervous ing for the clerk to open so he can get some saffron tea of.

NEWS AND COURIER ENTERPRISE.

A Big New Press Ordered and a New Building Erected.

It is understood that the News and Courier company has closed a contract for a New Hoo Press, which will print, when occasion demands, twenty four pages at once, folding and counting each paper at the same time.

This necessitates the purchase of a far more extensive stereotyping outfit, and in addition to this, the company is tearing down the old, and building a new two story building to give more room in the composition and make up room.

Work on the new building began this week, and a contract with the Hoo company was completed Saturday. The press will be shipped at once, and it is hoped to get it in operation within about 60 days.—Florence Daily Times.
